The Elmley Foundation is a grant-making charity founded by the late Countess Beauchamp, widow of Viscount Elmley, the 8th and last Earl Beauchamp of Madresfield Court, near Malvern.

Over many generations, Madresfield Court established a tradition of support for all forms of the arts, crafts and design. Now that charitable sources have come to replace the personal enthusiasm and commitment shown by many family benefactors of the past, The Elmley Foundation perpetuates Madresfield's considerable encouragement to the cultural life of Herefordshire and Worcestershire.

The Foundation's Trustees are therefore particularly delighted to support
